KSC's annual funding supports 358 participants across four adaptive team sports: adaptive Rolling Nuggets Wheelchair Basketball, Colorado Sled Hockey, Rolling Mammoth Wheelchair Lacrosse, and Rapids Power Soccer teams.

BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF METRO DENVER

Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Denver offer members a safe, supportive, fun, and enriching environment that inspires and empowers them to achieve their greatest potential. DENVER PUBLIC SCHOOLS FOUNDATION
DENVER PREP LEAGUE

In 1997, KSC became a founding partner of the Denver Prep League (DPL) to give Denver Public Schools’ middle school students an avenue for participation in organized after-school activities, a void left unfilled in DPS for 30 years. Today, DPL comprises 33 schools, allowing more than 7,000 students to participate in 17 different organized sports programs throughout the year. School-based physical activity programs, such as Prep League, provide opportunities to help youth learn and practice social behaviors associated with teamwork, cooperation, and respect for others, which can favorably influence school climate, connectedness with school, and educational outcomes. Prep League encourages students to earn good grades, keep physically active, and learn about competition and sportsmanship while providing a safe and supervised environment.

UNIFIED CHAMPION SCHOOLS

Special Olympics Colorado Unified Champion Schools (UCS) Program empowers youth, with and without Intellectual Disabilities (ID), to be leaders of change through playing sports and learning together. The program includes four programmatic parts: Unified Sports, Inclusive Youth Leadership, Whole School

Engagement, and Inclusive Health (called the Healthy LEAP program in schools). UCS creates a channel for Special Olympics Colorado (SOCO) and schools to cooperatively work together to ensure inclusion in all school activities, equip young people with tools and training to create sport, classroom, and community experiences that reduce bullying and exclusion, promote healthy activity and interactions, combat stereotypes and stigma, eliminate hurtful language in schools, and engage young people in pro-social activities that lead to more inclusive and accepting attitudes, behaviors, and school climates. Funding from Kroenke Sports Charities provides opportunities for 85,000 students in 204 schools through the Denver – Aurora – Boulder area.

NUGGETS AMBASSADORS

Denver Nuggets Community Ambassadors interact with more than 10,000 people each year. Appearances include basketball skills clinics, school assemblies, motivational speaking, and hospital visits. In 2024-25, the Nuggets Community Ambassadors included Kyle Speller, Mark Randall, and Nicholas Owens.

NICHOLAS OWENS & MARK RANDALL

NICHOLAS OWENS

Nicholas Owens is an inspiration to all who meet him. His relationship with the Denver Nuggets began in 1990 when he was a child ambassador for Children’s Hospital Colorado. In 1998, he was officially hired as a locker room attendant to care for the players and coaches. Nicholas was born with spina bifida, a congenital disability resulting in damage to the nerves in the spinal cord, leading to paralysis and sensory loss. During his lifetime, he has overcome more than 40 surgeries due to various complications. Nicholas has a love for sports and for helping others; his role as a Community Ambassador perfectly melds these two passions.

MARK RANDALL

MARK RANDALL

Former Nuggets player, assistant coach, scout, broadcaster, and in-arena host Mark Randall currently serves as a Community Ambassador for the team. In this role, Randall works with children to promote sportsmanship, teamwork, and basketball. Randall also serves as Manager of High School Athletics for Denver Public Schools, where he helps oversee the day-to-day logistics of 26 sports for 13 City of Denver High Schools.

KYLE SPELLER

KYLE SPELLER

Nuggets in-arena announcer Kyle Speller combines his passion for the Nuggets and community through his role as a Community Ambassador. The 2024-25 season was Kyle’s 20th season as the Nuggets public address announcer. He is the first African American public address announcer in the Nuggets franchise history, and in the State of Colorado for any of the major professional sports teams.

“A big thank you to Kyle Speller for hosting the Westy Futures D-League Basketball Championship! The kids were absolutely thrilled, and the experience meant so much to them. These young athletes will never forget having this opportunity to be seen, celebrated, and given a platform on such a big stage under the bright lights.

Your support not only gave them an incredible memory but also reminded them that their voices, talents, and dreams matter. That kind of impact goes far beyond basketball. On behalf of myself, the players, and their families - thank you for helping create a moment they’ll carry with them for the rest of their lives.”

MOST VALUABLE TEACHER

The Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche proudly celebrated the incredible impact of local educators through the 2024-25 Most Valuable Teacher (MVT) program, presented by Ford. This season, 24 outstanding teachers and school administrators from across Colorado were honored for their dedication to students and their communities.

Twelve educators located within 30 minutes of Ball Arena were surprised with in-person classroom celebrations featuring mascots, alumni, and other team personalities. These visits also included game tickets, a pre-game dinner at the arena, and a $2,000 grant to support classroom needs or innovative school projects.

The remaining twelve honorees - those located farther from Denver - were recognized remotely with $2,000 classroom grants, personalized swag packages, classroom giveaways, dinner at a local restaurant, and heartfelt acknowledgments from the teams.

All 24 MVT honorees received special recognition at a home game in April 2025, where they were celebrated in style as a group with a catered suite experience at Ball Arena.

GABRIEL LANDESKOG

“I wanted to send a huge thank you to the entire Avalanche organization for inviting our daughter to be a part of the Charity Brunch & Fashion Show. She felt like a celebrity and her sister felt included in so many of the fun experiences. It will definitely be a core memory for our family. When I was packing her overnight bag for a recent stay in the hospital, I noticed that she'd packed her stuffed Bernie and photo. She said she wanted to bring them with her because they made her smile. Thank you for giving her such a joyous experience; she can take these happy memories along with her when things are difficult. We truly appreciate the difference that you're making in the lives of all these families."

Thank You!
